

PUYALLUP TRIBAL HEALTH AUTHORITY

Patient Rights and Responsibilities

Mission: It is the mission of The Puyallup Tribal Health Authority (PTHA) to provide quality health care and promote wellness in a culturally appropriate manner.

Patient Rights:

PTHA patients have the following rights:

1. Be treated with respect, consideration, and dignity.
2. Receive services without regard to race, creed, national origin, religion, gender, sexual orientation, age or disability.
3. Practice the religion of choice as long as the practice does not infringe on the rights and treatment of others or the treatment service. Individual patients have the right to refuse participation in any religious practice.
4. Be reasonably accommodated in case of sensory or physical disability, limited ability to communicate, limited English proficiency, and cultural differences.
5. Be free of exploitation, including physical and financial exploitation.
6. Have privacy protected. The patient has the right to know that all records and other information about his/her care will be kept confidential in accord with state and federal confidentiality regulations.
7. Preview his/her clinical record in the presence of the administrator or designee and be able to request amendments or corrections.
8. Obtain information concerning their diagnosis, evaluation, treatment, and prognosis. When it is medically inadvisable to give such information to a patient, the information is provided to a person designated by the patient or to a legally authorized person.
9. Participate in decisions involving their health care, except when such participation is contraindicated for medical reasons.
10. Change providers if other qualified providers are available.
11. Know the qualifications of the staff providing them care.
12. Receive a copy of the complaint and grievance procedure upon request, to file a complaint and know that the complaints will not affect their ability to get healthcare or affect how they are treated.
13. Be free from all forms of abuse and harassment including sexual, physical and financial exploitation.
14. Give, withhold or withdraw consent to special procedures or treatments. In emergency situations (life threatening or possibility of permanent loss of limbs, eyesight or other critical functions) the physicians may not be able to provide extensive information to the patient because of the loss of precious time which could be more dangerous for the patient.
15. Refuse treatment to the extent permitted by law. In this event, the patient must be informed of the medical consequences of this action.
16. Ask how his/her local health facility is related to other non-local health facilities(private, state, country, university or other federal facilities).
17. When a patient's condition is generally considered by medical authorities to be untreatable by normal accepted methods, then the following choices are available to the patient and his/her physician.
 - a. Make the patient as comfortable as possible and let the disease run its course.
 - b. Offer traditional medicine practices
 - c. Suggest that the patient consider treatments by new and experimental (unproven) methods. The patient has the right to know of plans to use unproven methods or treatment that will affect his/her care or treatment and has the right to refuse to take part in any of these research projects.
18. Expect reasonable continuity of care such as:
 - a. To know what appointment times are available to him or her.
 - b. To know what services are available to him or her.
 - c. To know where the services can be obtained.

19. Prepare Advance Directives which will tell our providers and staff what you want us to do if you are unable to make medical decisions on your own.
20. Receive a written copy of his/her rights and responsibilities before receiving services, with availabilities in alternate formats for individuals who are blind.

Special Rights of Adolescents:

1. A minor patient 13 years or older may consent to outpatient treatment for mental health and substance abuse without parental knowledge or consent.
2. A minor patient 14 years or older may consent to treatment of sexually transmitted diseases without parental knowledge or consent.
3. A minor patient, regardless of age, may consent to birth control or pregnancy-related care.
4. Emancipated minors may consent to their own treatment.

Patient Responsibilities:

During the visit to the PTHA, patients are asked to accept responsibility for the following:

1. Behaving respectfully towards all healthcare professionals and staff, as well as other patients and visitors.
2. Making and keeping appointments, as well as calling to cancel or change appointments.
3. Informing the staff of any address, phone number, insurance, or Medicaid/Medicare changes.
4. Providing complete and accurate information to the best of his/her ability about his/her health, any medications, including over the counter products and dietary supplements, and any allergies or sensitivities.
5. Following the treatment plan prescribed by his/her provider and participating in his/her care.
6. Making sure he/she understands the directions, and treatment goals given by their health provider. Understand the risks of not following through with plan.
7. Providing supervision for children.
8. Complying with the posted rules.
9. Knowing how to reach a medical provider after the facility closes.
10. Obtaining referral information, knowing appointment time and date, keeping appointment, and calling to cancel or change appointment.
11. Providing a responsible adult to provide transportation home and to remain with him/her as directed by the provider or as indicated on discharge instructions.

Additional Information:

Individual copies of the Patient Rights and Responsibilities is available at registration, upon an update, and will be available to any patient and/or interested party on the PTHA website and upon request. This Patient Rights and Responsibilities Policy supplements the HIPAA Notice of Privacy Practices.
